SKILLS

Global, Federal, State, and Local laws

In addition to my teaching experience in Corporate Law, Financial Services Crimes, and Forensic Science and Law, Jurisprudence and Law of Evidence (at the undergraduate and graduate levels), one of my areas of expertise is in Evidence and Proof, particularly in Wigmorean Analysis - a method of evidence analysis for managing, analyzing, and charting mixed masses of evidence (specifically Big Data). I have analyzed Big Data for the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada, the London Metropolitan Police Force, the West Midlands Police Force, and Law Firms in the United States, Canada, and Nigeria.

Higher Education Knowledge

I have a Post Graduate Education Certificate in "Academic Practice in Higher Education," and have been involved in numerous collaborative projects such as the designing of the curricula for new Universities in Africa; working with the Red Cross on the design of an International Humanitarian Law Curriculum for educational institutions in Africa, and the establishment of new institutions of learning (sponsored by UNESCO) in Africa.

Event Planning

I have organized over 20 conferences in the United States, United Kingdom, Nigeria, Cuba, Brazil, Trinidad and Tobago, and Venezuela.

Budget Preparation

Budget preparation and management for major grants, including from UNESCO.

Leadership

I have served as President, Treasurer, Secretary, and International Coordinator of professional academic associations, some of which have over 10,000 members.

Research

Over thirty years of empirical and archival research in history and philosophy of science, forensic science, Africana history, philosophy, and cultures.

Advising

At the University of Leicester School of Law, I was the Post Graduate Adviser for Distant Learning Degrees. I was a member of the team that set up the School of Law's Distance Learning Degrees, and I supervised the School of Law's first Ph.D. in Law by distant learning. I have supervised five Ph.D. candidates to successful completion; been on the doctoral dissertation committees of six Ph.D. candidates, have served as the external assessor in 4 Ph.D. examinations, and have supervised 28 LLM (Master of Law) dissertations. I have also supervised over thirty undergraduate theses in philosophy

(Howard University and Haverford College), Religion (Haverford College and Temple University), and African Studies (Howard University).

Creativity

I studied for 33 years as an apprentice Babalawo (a griot/storyteller in Africana tradition called Òrìṣà tradition) and graduated from my apprenticeship in June 2000 - the same month I graduated from my Ph.D. in Law. I am an expert in Òrìṣà oral poetry and Òrìṣà music. I conduct weddings, naming ceremonies, and funeral services in the Òrìṣà tradition. I have a Music CD on Apple Music and have appeared in 4 documentary movies over 20 radio shows; and have served (and currently serving) as an Africana expert on history, theology, and philosophy, to organizations such as the BBC and Walt Disney pictures.
